Mrs. Logan's Washington Home Freed from Encumbrance.

Miller Leads in the New York Senatorial Contest.

The House Passes Important Pension Measures.

Relief of Mrs. Logan

WASHINGTON, January 17.—Citizens of Chicago having contributed $13,000 to the fund for the payment of encumbrances now resting upon the home of Mrs. Logan in this city, Col. M. M. Parker to day called on her and obtaining for her a check on Riggs & Co. paid off the notes. Later in the day he presented to Mrs. Logan the cancelled notes and she now owns the house known as Calumet Place on Columbia Heights free from all encumbrances. It is expected the movement for a monument to General Logan will originate either with Grand Army posts or the Army of the Tennessee. The latter body meets in Detroit in September next and it is probable that the movement will take permanent shape there.

The New York Senatorship.

ALBANY, January 17.—The democratic legislative caucus to-night agreed upon Smith M. Weed, of Plattsburgh, as its candidate for U. S senator on the first ballot

In the republican caucus the first ballot for senator resulted as follows: Senator Warner Miller, 44, Hon. Levi P. Morton, 35; Hon Frank Hiscock, 12; total 91.

Commerce with Canada

WASHINGTON, January 17. Belmont of New York introduced in the house to day a bill to protect American vessels against unwarrantable and unlawful discriminations in ports of British North America The bill authorizes the president to prohibit vessels bearing the British flag and coming from such ports from entering ports of the United States or from exercising such privileges therein as he may define. It also authorizes the president to forbid entrance by land from provinces of British North America of all merchandise, also of all cars, locomotives or other rolling stock of any railway company chartered under the laws of said province.

XLIX Congress

SENATE

WASHINGTON, January 17.—Mr Hoar, from the select committee on the centennial celebration of the constitution, reported a resolution that it is expedient that the centennial anniversary of the inauguration of the constitution be celebrated in April, 1889, by an address to be delivered before the president of the United States and the two houses of congress by the chief justice of the United States, to which representatives of foreign governments shall be invited, and that the occasion be further celebrated by suitable civic or military observances, details thereof to be settled hereafter. Adopted.

Edmunds called attention to the bill introduced by him and referred to the postoffice committee providing for government postal telegraphy. He wished the committee to report it either favorably or unfavorably, so that he might try to get the judgment of the senate upon it.

The senate bill for securing of certain public lands in Oregon was reported and put on the calendar.

Edmunds offered a resolution making it a standing rule that when the report of a conference committee agreeing with house conferees shall have been made and be under consideration the first question thereon shall be "Shall the senate agree to same?" and that if the report be not agreed to or if disagreement be reported the matter shall stand in the same way as if no conference had been had thereon If a conference be asked or agreed to by the senate it shall be in order to instruct the senate conferees. Referred to the committee on rules.

On motion of Sawyer the senate proceeded to consider and pass pension bills on the calendar. Forty pension bills (principally house bills) were passed, and then the pension appropriation bill, appropriating $70,000,000, was taken up and passed with only a few immaterial amendments.

The army appropriation bill was then taken up. The bill was passed with a few unimportant amendments.

The senate bill to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with agricultural colleges was taken up as unfinished business.

Ingalls characterized the bill as exceedingly crude and imperfect.

Vest said that he could not understand the difference between this measure and the Blair education bill, except that one provided for general education and the other for agricultural education. The objections to the Blair bill applied with equal force to this bill.

Mr. Butler said that he could see a wide distinction between this bill, which he favored, and the Blair educational bill. It was refreshing to hear the sentiments expressed by the senators from Kansas and Missouri after the action of the senate on the oleomargarine bill, destroying one industry at the dictation of another; and on the inter-state commerce bill, pleuro-pneumonia bill and Blair educational bill. If congress were going on questionable ground he preferred to go in a direction that would be beneficial to farmers.

Without action on the bill or on any of the pending amendments the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Under call of states the following bills were introduced and referred:

By Morrow of California, providing that suits by the United States to vacate and annul any land patent shall not be brought after ten years after the date of issuance of such patents.

By Robertson of Kentucky (by request), to regulate prosecutions against Indians for crimes committed in the territories.

By Findlay of Maryland (by request), to make gold and silver coin jointly legal tender; to authorize the issue of legal tender certificates for half gold coin and half silver coin, and to provide that funds for redeeming treasury notes and that coin reserves of national banks shall be held one half in gold coin and one half in silver coin.

By Lovering of Massachusetts, granting a pension of $25 a month to Walt Whitman Lovering states that Whitman has made no application for a pension but that the bill was introduced at the request of a number of the poet's friends in Massachusetts.

By Hermann of Oregon, proposing a constitutional amendment for the election of U S. senators by the people of the states.

By Randall of Pennsylvania for the appointment of a commission to represent the United States government in the constitutional centennial commission.

By Ballentine of Tennessee, for the construction of cruising vessels of war of twenty knots speed.

By Anderson of Kansas, calling upon the attorney general for information as to legal authority under which directors of the Union Pacific Railroad company consolidated that company with the Kansas Pacific company and Denver Pacific Railroad company, and reorganized the same under the name of Union Pacific Railway company.

The call of states having been concluded Townshend of Illinois called up as unfinished business the motion to suspend the rules and pass a bill for the protection of innocent purchasers of patented articles.

Crisp of Georgia, however, as a matter of privilege, called up the conference report on the inter state commerce bill This action on his part aroused the antagonism of friends of the patent bill and of the general pension bill, which were booked to follow it; and Anderson of Kansas raised the question of consideration against the conference report. The house refused, yeas 113, nays 137, to consider the inter-state commerce conference report, and the house proceeded to vote upon a motion to suspend rules and pass the bill to limit jurisdiction of United States courts in patent cases and to protect persons who without notice are bona fide manufacturers, purchasers, venders and users of patent articles. The motion was lost, yeas 80, nays 156.

Mr. Matson, of Indiana, on behalf of the committee on invalid pensions, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill for the relief of dependent parents and honorably-discharged soldiers and sailors who are now disabled and dependent upon their own labor for support. Mr Matson stated that the first section of the bill merely changed the evidence required by the pension office and would not cost the government more than $50,000 annually. The total number of persons who would be benefited by the second section was estimated at 10,165, and the annual cost to the government would not reach $3,000,000.

Morrill, of Kansas, favored the bill as being a declaration that no old soldier who followed the flag should end his days in the poor house.

Springer of Illinois favored the bill as a fair and conservative measure.

The bill was then passed; yeas 170, nays 76.

It provides that in considering pension claims of dependent parties the fact and cause of death and the fact that the soldier left no widow or minor children having been shown as required by law it shall be necessary only to show that such parents are without other present means of support than their own manual labor or contribution of others not legally bound for their support, provided, that no pension allowed under this act shall commence prior to its passage

Section 2 provides that all persons who served three months or more in the military or navy service of the United States in any war in which the United States has been engaged, and who have been honorably discharged therefrom, and who are now or who may hereafter be suffering from mental or physical disability not the result of their own vicious habits or gross carelessness, which incapacitates them for the performance of labor in such a degree as to render them unable to earn support, and who are dependent upon their daily labor for support, shall upon making due proof of the fact according to such rules and regulations as the secretary of the interior may provide in pursuance of this act, be placed on the list of invalid pensioners of the United States and be entitled to receive for such total inability to procure their subsistence by daily labor $12 per month, and such pension shall commence from the date of filing application in the pension office upon proof that disability then existed and continue during the existence of the same in the degree herein provided. This act shall not apply to persons under political disability or to any person whose disability was incurred while engaged in military service against the United States.

Eldredge of Michigan, on behalf of the committee on pensions, moved that the rules be suspended and the house concur in the senate amendment to the Mexican pension bill.

The motion to suspend the rules and concur in the senate amendment was agreed to; yeas 248, nays 5. The bill now only requires presidential approval to become law.

It provides that a pension of $8 a month shall be paid to all surviving officers and enlisted men, including marines, militia and volunteers of the military and naval services of the United States, who being duly enlisted actually served sixty days with the army or navy of the United States in Mexico or on the coast or frontiers thereof or en route thereto, in the war with that nation, or were actively engaged in battle in said war and were honorably discharged; and to such other officers and soldiers and sailors as may have been personally named in any resolution of congress for any specific service in said war, and the surviving widows of such officers and enlisted men; provided, that such widows have not remarried; provided, that every such officer, enlisted man or widow who is or may become 62 years of age, or who is or may become subject to any disability or dependency equivalent to some cause prescribed or recognized by the pension laws of the United States as sufficient reason for the allowance of a pension, shall be entitled to the benefits of this act But it shall not be held to include any person not within the rule of age or disability or dependency herein defined, or who incurred such disability while in any manner voluntarily engaged in aiding or abetting the late rebellion against the authority of the United States. Section 4,716 R. S. is repealed so far as it relates to this act or to pensioners under this act.

Decision Rendered Against Robertson in Indiana.

Catholics Incensed at the Deposition of Dr. McGlynn.

Monster Meetings in New York Protest Against It.

Decision in the Indiana Case

INDIANAPOLIS, January 17.—Judge Ayers of the civil circuit court this morning gave his decision in the proceedings against Lieut. Governor Robertson. He held that the court had jurisdiction of the case and also that there is no provision of the constitution whereby a lieutenant governor can be elected at any other time than when the governor is elected, that is, once every four years, and inasmuch as the election was not constitutional the proceedings could not be a contested election as provided by the constitution and statutes He granted a writ of injunction against Col. Robertson to restrain him from presiding at the joint convention Wednesday. In conclusion the judge said he assumed jurisdiction and made the decision he did so there could be an appeal to the supreme court at once. He believed that upon such an important question the opinion of that court should be had.

Dr. McGlynn's Suspension

NEW YORK, January 17 The Tribune will to-morrow publish a letter in which the writer says that Archbishop Corrigan told him that the suspension of Rev. Dr. McGlynn was not on his own responsibility, but that the order came direct from Rome.

About 5000 of the late parishioners of Dr. McGlynn, suspended pastor of St. Stephen's church, gathered about the building this evening in response to a call to express sympathy with him. The great school room in the basement was quickly crowded, while many were unable to gain admission. Resolutions were unanimously passed, many of those present listening to their reading with straining nerves, reciting their love for the deposed priest, the outrage to their feelings occasioned by what they consider his past treatment, appointing a committee to wait upon Archbishop Corrigan to request his reinstatement pledging themselves not to contribute a penny to the support of the parish while administered over by the new rector, Dr. Donnelly, or until Dr. McGlynn is restored to the pastorate.

After this was done word was sent in by a messenger for the meeting to disperse, as Pastor Donnelly had sent for police to clear the hall As the people filed out upon the sidewalk a squad of police came up with drawn clubs, but there was nothing for them to do.

A meeting of Catholics and others not members of St. Stephen's parish was also held in the Cooper Union to endorse Dr. McGlynn, and the large auditorium was crowded to its utmost capacity. The meeting was under the auspices of the Central Labor union, which is chiefly made up of followers of Henry George. Addresses were made in which it was stated that Dr. McGlynn had been made the victim of Tammany Hall, objecting to foreign interference in our political affairs, and quoting from Catholic writers and others to show that the land theories of Henry George and Dr. McGlynn were not new or Catholic. A long series of resolutions were passed, reciting in the preamble the cause which led up to the suspension of Dr. McGlynn, quoting Archbishop Croke and Bishop Nulty in support of the people's ownership of land, and to the effect that no ecclesiastical authority has any right to prescribe or proscribe political belief.

The resolutions continued: "As Catholics loyal to our religion and its highest interests we protest most emphatically against any attempt to extend ecclesiastical authority into a sphere of politics, and while cheerfully yielding full obedience to the authorities of the church in matters of religion we emphatically deny the right of the pope, propaganda or archbishop to prescribe for American Catholics, lay or clerical, what economic opinions they shall express or what line of political action they shall pursue or abstain from; and we denounce any attempt to influence ecclesiastical penalties upon an American citizen, lay or clerical, for a political speech or action, as the dragging of religion into politics; that it is both scandalous to the church and dangerous to the principles of American freedom; and we further protest against Dr. McGlynn's summons to Rome to account for his political opinions as an attempt to establish the dangerous precedent that an American citizen can be questioned in a foreign country for his course in American politics. The resolutions also pledged him the support in power of the meeting, both moral and material

Death of General Hazen.

WASHINGTON, January 16.—General W. B. Hazen, chief signal officer of the United States army, died in this city of diabetes at 5 o'clock this evening He has suffered from diabetes for some years, but of late he had improved in health and strength and hopes were entertained of his complete recovery. At the reception to the diplomatic corps, which was given by the president, he took a severe cold, causing him to keep his bed on Friday. But on Saturday he was up, and reported himself much improved, saying that he would go to his office on Monday.

On Sunday morning his physician Dr. P. F. Harvey, U. S. A.—was summoned to see him soon after daylight. He at once repaired to his rooms and found an alarming change in his condition suggesting poisoning of the blood from his constitutional disease, and he at once adopted measures to overcome this condition and rest to his stomach. A consultation was also at once sought with Dr. D. L. Huntington, of the army, who agreed in the main with the attending physician.

The case was deemed of such extreme gravity that his relatives in the city were informed and they at once gathered about him and spared no effort to bring him relief. Some improvement resulted from the treatment, but toward evening his symptoms became aggravated, and at the request of his family Dr. Lincoln met Drs. Harvey and Huntington in consultation. Every measure that skill or science could suggest failed to rally the sinking officer, and he breathed his last at 8 o'clock in the evening. His final illness was not accompanied by suffering, and his death was calm and without a struggle

Information of General Hazen's death was conveyed immediately to Colonel Huntington and Captain Greeley, and to the secretary of war, who communicated the intelligence to the president. The general of the army, who was advised of his death by telegraph, will be conferred with by Captain Greeley in behalf of General Hazen's family as to the military honors to be paid to the deceased

WASHINGTON, January 17.—General Hazen will be buried with military honors on Wednesday at 11 o'clock from St. James church. His remains will be temporarily interred at Oak Hill or Rock Creek cemetery. Final interment will be made after Mrs. Hazen's return from Europe, probably at Hiram, Ohio, his old home General Sheridan has charge of military arrangements for the funeral, but the military escort will be under command of Colonel Gibson of the Third artillery. The escort will consist of a detachment from the Signal corps, artillery batteries stationed here and a detachment from the Marine corps.

An Indignant American

ST. LOUIS, January 17.—Meyer Kaufman, a well known commission merchant, arrived in the city yesterday from Cuba after an experience there which he will not soon forget, and for which he will ask the United States to demand of the Spanish government the sum of $5,000. Kaufman left this city in the early part of last month for Mexico, and when at Vera Cruz obtained a passport to Cuba for himself and an interpreter named John Fore. Immediately upon his arrival at Havana a Spanish officer approached him and without explanation of any kind lugged him off to jail and locked him up. It was some time before he comprehended the situation, but he explained as best he could that there was a mistake somewhere. He did not at first mind the matter, thinking his explanation would result in his release in a very short time. Two or three days passed and he was still confined in jail, having no place whereon to lie but the flagging of his cell and being furnished with nothing more substantial in the way of food than bread and water. He learned that he had been arrested and the charge against him was that he had swindled merchants in the City of Mexico to the extent of $27,000. He had been arrested as a man named Meyer, and the clew upon which the Spanish authorities went in the arrest was furnished by his first name and the fact that the swindler was of the same race as himself. For twelve days and as many nights Kaufman was confined in a Spanish dungeon and after the first few days found himself well nigh starved and stiffened with sleeping on rough flagging. An officer at last arrived from Mexico, who, after examining him, declared that he was not the man he was looking for. Upon this the Cuban authorities permitted his release and he was sent off without a word of apology or explanation.

Killed by Gas.

TROY, N. Y., January 17.—Last night a police officer was told by a restaurant keeper at 393 River street that he and his family had been stupefied from the effect, as he predicted, of foul gas, which had entered their apartments. The gas company building is near by. The gas was shut off and an examination of the houses in the neighborhood was made. In one room of a tenement house three persons, Wm. Gilfillan, Ida Bennett, and Caroline Bennett, were found dead sitting about the room as they had been conversing when the gas overcame them. Their bodies were taken to an undertaker's rooms and the coroner notified. Other families in the neighborhood were aroused and ordered by police to leave their houses. A leak in the pipes which run through the district was probably the cause of the accident, the gas being odorless.

Twenty other persons were more or less affected in the same locality. The survivors say they experienced a drowsiness and sickness at the stomach. The authorities are investigating the matter, and a special meeting of the common council has been called to take necessary action. The company has shut off gas from its main and will not supply its customers for the present.

Sunset Cox Ill.

WASHINGTON, January 17. The condition of Hon. S. S Cox is somewhat improved this morning but he is still quite ill. He is suffering from pleurisy and catarrh of the stomach He is much emaciated and his breathing is short and painful. His physicians, Doctors Bliss and Sowers, are frequently at his bedside, and while admitting that he is a very sick man expresses the opinion that he will recover if something now unforeseen does not occur to occasion a relapse.

WASHINGTON, January 17. At 9 o'clock this evening Dr. Bliss reported Representative Cox's condition as considerably improved since the morning consultation.

Stanley's Expedition.

LONDON, January 17.—Henry M. Stanley told a reporter to-day that the Emin Bey relief expedition would go by way of Zanzibar, that the enterprise would cost $100,000, and that it would leave Zanzibar composed of a thousand men. Of these eight would be English and the rest natives of Zanzibar. Stanley said he expected that news of the progress of the expedition would reach Europe by July.

BRUSSELS, January 17.—The Congo Free State has ordered the assembling of its entire flotilla on the upper part of the Congo river at Leopoldville by the end of March with a view to aiding as much as possible the Stanley expedition for the relief of Emin Bey in event of the expedition proceeding via the Congo route.

A very successful and enjoyable ball was given at The Antlers last evening under the auspices of the "El Paso Hunt." It was attended by a large number of our society people, who heartily enjoyed the occasion. The dining room, which had been converted into the ball room, was handsomely and tastefully decorated with flowers, rugs, skins, saddles, riding equipments, etc. The decorations was done under the supervision of Mr. Frank T. Lent, the rugs and skins being kindly and generously loaned by Mr. C. E. Aiken. Excellent music was furnished by Koenigsberg's orchestra, of Denver.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad has just sold $11,000,000 of four per cent bonds at 93½. These bonds are payable in currency, which makes the price all the more remarkable.

Sherman, Hoar and Evarts have all been named as republican candidates for the presidency. But they all had courage to vote against the Cullom bill. They did not oppose the purpose of the bill but its methods.

The ballot at this writing looks favorably for the re-nomination of Senator Miller. He lacks only two votes of the nomination. A week ago it was considered that the vote for Morton would be 40, Miller 40 and Hiscock 11. Miller's increased strength came from gains in western New York.

One St. Louis firm bought last week 10,000 tons of pig iron in England at a less price laid down in St. Louis than the southern iron firms could furnish it. It is said that American orders in England now amount to 200,000 tons. This shows the immense increase in the demand for iron products and is the best evidence of the general prosperity of the country. The Coal and Iron Co. is now running its furnaces to their fullest capacity, and the same can be said of every other manufacturer of pig iron.

Gen. W. B. Hazen was one of the bravest soldiers in the army. No regiment, brigade or division fought more bravely than those he commanded from Shiloh to Fort Pulaski. He has done and said a good many indiscreet things in the last five years, but now only his distinguished services in the army will be remembered. He was born in Hartford, Windsor county, Vermont, September 27, 1830; graduated at the United States military academy July 1, 1855. He was assigned to frontier duty against the Comanche Indians; was made first lieutenant in May, 1861. During the civil war he recruited the Forty-first Ohio volunteers, which he commanded. He was appointed brigadier general in November, 1862. In 1863 he was engaged in Tennessee, and in 1864-65 was with Sherman until the surrender of Johnston. He was appointed major general in December, 1864. Since the death of General Myer, some years ago, he has occupied the position of chief officer of the United States signal service.

The Chicago Tribune has this to say of the effort of the wool men to retain the duty on wool:

The familiar bleat of Delano's Ohio Wool Growers' association is again heard in the land. A small knot of sheep raisers, for politics mainly, with the antique Columbus Delano at the front, can be relied on with the certainty of the equinox to put in an annual plea for dearer clothing by means of higher duties on wool.

This is quite in harmony with the selfishness that characterizes the protectionists the Tribune represents. The Colorado wool men have favored protection for all American industries, and this is the answer given to its demand that wool be put back to where it was before the revision of 1883. Colorado has only two industries that are much benefitted by protection. One is the steel rail industry and the other is the wool industry. The Tribune proposes ruining the former by putting the freight on steel rails from the Missouri river at one-fourth of the regular fourth class rate, and joins the cry of the wool manufacturers for cheap clothing at the expense of the latter. Colorado would not fare worse in free trade ranks.

Taxpayers will read with satisfaction the semi-annual statement of the county which we publish this morning. From this it appears that there are outstanding warrants amounting to only $312.68. This represents the total indebtedness of the county on the first of the year except the bill contracted in December, for which no warrants were issued. At the same time the treasury had $4,221.99 in cash, and some $2,800 in delinquent taxes due in the years 1880-85. The delinquent list is very small and shows good collections on the part of the treasurer. No county in Colorado can make so good a showing. The largest expense during the year was for roads and bridges. The commissioners should now feel able to do something on the pleasure drives about Colorado Springs. The county has derived most of its wealth from this city. This city has much of its prosperity from the beauty of the scenery in its immediate vicinity. The county is interested in whatever is important to the prosperity of the city. The road over Austin's bluff which used to be one of the most beautiful of our drives is now entirely closed to vehicles. The road at the farther side of the Mesa is kept in poor repair. But little money would be needed to put this road in good shape. The same can be said of the road through the Garden of the Gods. Bear Creek cañon road is not yet open for carriages, and this is another beautiful spot that has been closed to all except pedestrians and horseback riders. A few dollars spent on the Cheyenne cañon road would put it in splendid shape for driving. The county can amply afford these outlays and it is just that they should be made. This is a good subject for agitation in our board of trade. The county commissioners have been conservative in expenses and this is the main explanation of the splendid condition of our finances. But conservatism should not now conflict with a liberal public policy in keeping up our roads.

The decision of Judge Ayers, of Indiana, in the proceedings against Lieutenant Governor Robertson is very unfortunate and will tend to weaken respect for the judiciary. The question involved is best stated by the New York World (democratic) in the following:

The democrats of Indiana have not acted wisely in complicating the senatorial question with an attempt to keep from his seat a lieutenant governor elected by the people. The facts briefly are that the democratic lieutenant governor resigned his office to accept a federal appointment. The vacancy was recognized by a democratic attorney general, and accepted as a fact by the party in the nomination of a candidate to fill it. Nelson, the democratic candidate, received 290,593 votes; Robertson, republican, 232,916, with nearly 12,000 votes divided between the prohibition and nationalist candidates. Finding that they had unexpectedly been beaten in the election, and that the possession of the presiding officer's chair in the senate would be an important factor in the senatorial contest—the senate being democratic and the assembly republican—the democratic leaders took the position that the resignation of the former lieutenant-governor and present United States collector did not create a vacancy, but that the office would remain in abeyance until the expiration of the full term of two years. They therefore elected Senator Smith as president pro tem. of the senate, a position held ex officio by the lieutenant-governor. Previous to this they had appealed to the state supreme court. Though a majority of the judges are democrats, they united in referring the whole matter to the legislature. This body, in joint session, which the democratic senators refused to attend, canvassed the vote and declared Robertson, the republican candidate, elected by a plurality of all the votes cast. There is no dispute as to the result of the election, but the democrats protest that it was without legal force. We are bound to say that this seems an untenable position. It is the essence of democracy to respect the will of the people, lawfully expressed.

This election was appointed by the democratic state government. The result would never have been questioned had not the state gone republican, making the election of a republican senator possible. The canvass was made on this issue of the senatorial election. The republicans won. The democrats now strive to take advantage of their own alleged mistake to defeat the will of the people. But what can be expected from Indiana democrats who organized during the war the knighthood of the Golden Circle?

Colorado Legislature.

SENATE.

DENVER, January 17. In the senate this morning several bills were ordered printed, and discussion regarding clerks for committees was again taken up. At the conclusion of debate the senate resolved itself into committee of the whole on senate bill No. 12. This is an act fixing terms of district court in the Sixth judicial district of Colorado, providing for attendance of jurors at such terms and disposition of causes and proceedings pending therein, and to repeal certain other acts in relation thereto. The committee recomended that the bill be referred to the committee on revision, arose and adjourned.

On the senate convening the committee on judiciary recommended that senate bill 78 be laid on the table; that 77 and 83 be printed; and No. 75, regarding corporations, be referred to the committee on corporations. The report was adopted.

The committee on stock recommended that senate bill 48, regarding infectious diseases among animals, be referred to committee of the whole and that it do pass.

Senator Newell called up the joint resolution in regard to having five hundred copies of the railroad commissioner's report printed. Considerable discussion took place upon the advisability of having the report printed at an expense of $900, and it was agreed to indefinitely postpone action on the resolution.

The following bill were introduced:

Senator Woodworth, No. 88—To appeal an act relating to branding and herding. Referred to the committee on stock.

By Poolé, No. 89—An act to regulate pharmacy. Referred to the committee on pharmacy.

Adjourned to 10 in the morning.

HOUSE.

A communication was read from the senate giving notice of refusal to concur in H. C. R. No. 11, concerning full investigation of state institutions; and also notice of concurrence in H. C. R. No. 12, concerning appropriations for the Pueblo federal building, and also the establishment of a branch signal service station at that point.

After some routine business the following bills were introduced:

No. 91, F. Q. Stuart—To establish the office of commissioner of mines. Referred to the committee on mines.

No. 92, Mr. Eppich—To amend the general statutes concerning garnishment. Committee on judiciary.

No. 93, Mr. Eppich—To exempt certain wages from debt. Committee on judiciary.

No. 94, Mr. Eppich—For the protection of game. Committee on forestry, fish culture and game.

No. 95, Mr. White To amend the system of civil procedure in justice courts. Committee on judiciary.

No. 96, Mr. White—Concerning and regulating railroads. Railroad committee.

No. 97, Mr. Noble—To amend the woodland and forestry laws of 1885. Committee on forestry.

No. 98, Mr. Dean—To regulate the working and inspection of lode claims. Committee on mines.

No. 99, Mr. Prentiss—Regulating common carriers and pertaining to the office of railway commissioners. Committee on railroads.

No. 100, by Mr. Prentiss To amend the criminal code. Judiciary committee.

Adjourned 2 p. m.

In the afternoon session, house bill No. 82, for teaching in public schools the evil effects of alcoholic stimulants, was recommended printed.

House bill No. 11, appropriating $40,000 for paying members and employes was taken up, read the third time and passed by a vote of 37 to 2, Mr. Skiff and Mr. Noble voting in the negative.

F. Q. Stuart introduced house bill No. 101, to amend the general statutes regarding elections. Referred.

Thomas Edwards introduced house bill No. 102, to regulate the practice of medicine.

Skiff reintroduced house bill No. 4, providing the manner of inflicting the death penalty.

Adjourned to to-morrow.

Trampe Cremated.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., January 17.—At 2:15 a. m. to-day as a special freight with cotton was pulling into Paducah, Ky., on the line of the Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern railway, one of the cars was discovered to be on fire. The crew endeavored to extinguish the fire with hose attachments. All they succeeded in doing was to prevent the fire from spreading to other cars. While removing the debris of the burned car dead bodies charred beyond recognition were discovered. They were supposed to have been tramps, whether white or black it is impossible to say. The car was locked at Memphis but the men must have entered through a window in the end which could have been opened from the outside.

Emperor William Disappointed.

BERLIN, January 17.—Emperor William, receiving the president of the Prussian landtag to-day referred to the dissolution of the reichstag and the rejection of the army bill. "The rejection of this measure, so important for the preservation of peace to Germany," the emperor said, "has deeply saddened me. After so many happy days have been vouchsafed to me in my old age, especially after completing eighty years of service in the army, the rejection of the bill impresses me deeply and most painfully. It is impossible from a military point of view to regard the three years bill proposed by a majority of the reichstag as sufficient. I hope the bill will be passed in the near future."

MUSICAL (?) MUSINGS.

Although seven months have passed since I removed my music and sewing machine business to No. 8 North Tejon street, so strong is the force of habit that customers still continue to call at my museum on Pike's Peak avenue for sewing machines, oil and needles, sheet music, etc.

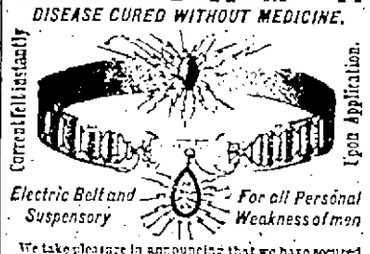

All goods pertaining to this department are now kept at the Tejon street store, where Mr. Irving has charge. I prefer to have all rents of pianos, organs, and sewing machines, and all payments on notes, leases, and time sales, paid to me at No. 105 Pike's Peak avenue, as I keep these accounts there, but Mr. Irving has charge of the tuning and repairing business.

The news stand, which has been kept in the music store, has been removed, and I intend, hereafter, to occupy the entire room with my own goods, and to have it neat and attractive. It seems to me that, with all the musical interest and talent that is developing in Colorado Springs, the city ought to support a pretty respectable music store, and I have made up my mind to keep as good an one as the citizens will allow me to—that is as good as their patronage will afford. I think of engaging some lady pianist who reads music at sight, and can operate sewing machines, to assist Mr. Irving, and take charge during his absence from the store. It will not pay, for the present, to carry a large stock of sheet music, but if everybody would entrust me with their sheet music orders, it would be quite a help. A lady for whom I once offered to order a sheet of music, replied, "Oh! I can do that myself." Of course it does not require a very profound intellect to order a sheet of music, but that isn't the point. Being in the business, I am enabled to buy all music at such a discount that I can retail as low as the publishers do and still make a profit. If I can get your music for you as quickly and deliver it here as cheap as you can get elsewhere, will you not be willing to allow me the retailer's profit rather than pay it to a dealer in some other city? If you have any personal grudge against me can you not lay it aside for the sake of benefiting a home institution? Very respectfully, a 5 1y C. E. AIKEN.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have secured the agency of the celebrated Dr. Clark Electro-Magnetic Belt, patented October 26th 1886, and which is unquestionably the crowning triumph in electric science. It combines each vast and radical improvements over all other belts, that its advantages over them can only be understood by comparing our present belt with those of to-day, and contains as marked improvements in Electricity for self-treatment as to-day's telephone does over the one of six years ago. That these statements are facts is conceded by the U. S. Government in their recent patents to us, and arguments are therefore unnecessary. This belt will infuse the current into the spinal column, which is the grand nerve centre of the body, and also gives direct currents to the stomach, Liver, Sexual Organs, or any weakened or diseased part, thus permeating every part of the body, and will positively cure Nervous Debility, Pains in the Back, Hips or Limbs, Lumbago, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, all Weakness of the Sexual Organs, Piles, General Ill Health, &c. Electric Suspensory for men free with every Belt.

We take it for granted that every buyer of an Electric Belt wants the BEST MADE, and it is therefore to the interest of sufferers to call and see the famous belt before buying, as it costs no more than the inferior old styles, produces stronger and more lasting currents, and is indestructible. We warrant it to last for years and while family can wear same belt. It is light, and more convenient to wear than any other. TO MEN suffering any personal weakness we especially recommend it, and will be glad to give the highest private references as to what it has done and is doing. SUNDAY'S FIRE.

A Private Residence on Cascade Avenue,

The Fire Department Does Efficient Service.

On Sunday afternoon about fifteen minutes past twelve o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded in the First ward. The fire companies immediately responded and were soon at the scene of the conflagration, which was located in the second house on the east side of Cascade avenue above Platte avenue. The Crowell Hose company were the first to make an attachment, which they accomplished on the plug between Tejon street and Nevada avenue on Platte avenue. The W. S. Jackson company made an attachment on the plug on Boulder street between Tejon and Cascade, but when they came to turn the water on, the plug would not work. It was not frozen as has been stated, but an examination on the part of Water Commissioner Frost yesterday morning developed the fact that the valve of the plug had been broken. The Matt France company made connection on a plug on Bijou street, and the College hose, when they reached the scene, attached to the same plug that the Crowell's were on, it being on a six-inch main.

As to the origin of the fire there is quite a difference of opinion. Some claim that it was caused by a defective flue and others state that it originated from a red hot stove. The latter opinion however seems to be the most plausible. The fire started in the attic of the building, and soon communicated itself to the roof and studding. The attic had been used to some extent as a storage room and contained quite a quantity of clothing, furniture, etc., which were easily and readily ignited. When the fire companies arrived upon the premises nearly everything in the way of furniture, household utensils, etc., had been taken from the building, with the exception of the attic where the dense smoke soon prevented any person from entering it.

The firemen went vigorously to work to subdue the flames, which on account of their location in the building offered quite a stubborn resistance. The Hook and Ladder company, who had arrived promptly on the scene, brought their ladders into good service, and by the means which they afforded, the nozzlemen of one of the companies were enabled to gain the roof over the kitchen, and from thence to direct a stream of water into the attic. Another stream also played upon the building from the south and west sides and a third stream was directed into the attic from the second floor of the building, the hose having been taken into the house through a window in the north side of the second story.

The force of the three streams upon the flames soon began to tell and less and less resistance was offered by the fire.

A great difficulty which the firemen encountered was in the situation of the fire. It being in the shingles of the roof and the studding, it was only by chopping out the former to some extent and by thoroughly saturating the latter that the flames were finally extinguished. From the time the fire started until it was thoroughly subdued a period of probably an hour and fifteen minutes elapsed.

The building was among the earliest erected in the city, it and the one adjoining on the south having been built by Mr. James Wilson, a former resident of the city nearly fifteen years ago. It now belong to Mrs. C. E. Mason, and its approximate value has been placed at $5000. The building was insured for $2000 in the Phœnix Insurance company of Hartford. The loss to the building by the fire is somewhere in the neighborhood of $4,000 or $5000.

At the time of the fire it was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Cant, who had quite a number of boarders. Most of the furniture which was in use was the property of Mr. and Mrs. Mason, and was taken from the building before the fire had gained much headway. It suffered no other damage except that occasioned in removing it.

The greater part of Mr. Cant's furniture was stored in the attic and was nearly all destroyed. What little was taken from the attic was more or less damaged by being thrown to the ground from the second story. Mr. Cant places the loss upon his goods at from $400 to $1,000. He had an insurance of $700 upon his furniture in a California company.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason have given for publication the following card of thanks:

We hereby wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the fire boys for their efforts to save our building from destruction by fire on Sunday last. They did not spare themselves in the least in their brave efforts and we take this means of expressing our appreciation of the work of the best fire department in Colorado.

R. W. MASON,
MRS R. W. MASON.

SPARKS AND CINDERS.

John Courter rendered effective service in assisting the Crowells to reach the scene of the fire.

The college boys were there, notwithstanding the distance of the building from their hose house.

Mr. Cant was among the most active workers, and labored hard to save the building from the flames.

One of the boarders was absent in Denver on Sunday, but his friends gathered his effects together as best they could.

Several outsiders rendered valuable assistance to the firemen, and a few made themselves a little too "numerous."

Many Sunday suits sustained serious injuries and several were yesterday sent to cleaning establishments to recuperate.

The chagrin of the Jacksons was complete when after a good run they failed to secure water on account of a defect in the plug.

Had a strong wind been blowing at the time it is probable the entire building and probably the one adjoining would have been destroyed.

The man who throws looking glasses out of second story windows and carries the poker down stairs, accomplished his mission before the crowd arrived.

The bell rang apparently for a very brief period. Quite a number of people in the eastern and southern portions of the city did not hear the alarm.

A dignified divine came very near receiving a sudden reminder in the way of a falling piece of studding barely missing his head, as he was passing around the building.

The secretary of the Congregational Sunday school undoubtedly reported a diminished attendance as the fire occurred during the period of its session from 12.30 p. m. to 1 30 p. m.

One of the boarders of the establishment was observed going down Tejon street after the fire with a pair of shoes in one hand and a bundle of assorted clothing in the other. He was greeted with the cry of "Stop thief!"

Everybody appeared to be in a good natured mood except a few of the Jacksons when they ran against "the dry plug." Their misfortune may have been due to the absence of Whitehead, their trusted and distinguished torch bearer, who might have been able to have lighted their way to a plug that would flow.

The fire was witnessed by a large crowd who completely blocked Cascade avenue in front of the premises. The alley and yard in the rear of the building were also crowded. Men, women and children were attentive witnesses of the conflagration and satisfaction was expressed on all sides with the efficient work of the department.

CITY COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting of the Municipal Body Last Evening.

The city council held a regular meeting last evening with Mayor Dow and Aldermen Himebaugh, Wilder, Stillman, Lawton, Hughes, Bentley and Skinner in attendance. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The report of the finance committee to the effect that the cancellation of the water bonds had been effected was read and ordered to be placed on file.

The ordinance committee introduced "an ordinance to amend an ordinance concerning the fire limits and the erection of buildings therein," which was laid over under the rules until the next meeting of the council.

The following bills were audited and allowed.

T A McMorris	$30 00
Giddings Bros.	29 74
H U McCreery	2 44
J H Crandall	29 44
W. Leonor	8 50
Gazette Publishing Co	16 07
Frank Davis	1 00
H. I. Reid	30 50

The matter of increasing the number of fire plugs was broached by Alderman Hughes but upon investigation it was found that there was not sufficient money in the fire department fund to pay for the additional plugs.

Alderman Skinner said that "an ounce of prevention was worth a pound of cure," and that the present and previous councils had been derelict in the matter of appointing fire wardens, and that the ordinance defining their duties and creating the office of fire warden had not been enforced. On motion of Alderman Stillman the city marshal was directed to make a thorough examination of all stores, pipes, furnaces, etc., within the city limits.

Alderman Himebaugh offered the following resolution which was adopted:

WHEREAS, The constantly increasing population and growth of our city require a very large increase of our water supply for domestic purposes beyond the capacity afforded by the natural streams that can be made tributary thereto, and this supply must be sought for in the mountains by constructing storage reservoirs where they may be supplied from the abundant fall of rain and snow, and

WHEREAS, Our committee on water works have made very extensive and careful surveys therefor, and find that the only practical storage basin as per the report of the city engineer filed with the clerk is at the head of Ruxton creek situated partly on the public domain and partly in the military reservation, and

WHEREAS, It is impossible for this city to acquire the right to construct such storage reservoir in said basin except such right be granted by act of the congress of the United States by grant of the tract of land containing said basin to this city in fee simple or grant of the right to use said basin for said purpose of water storage forever, together with right to make all necessary improvements therein for that purpose; therefore

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Colorado Springs, That this city does hereby request congress to grant to this city such title, easement, or claim in and to the tract of land comprising said basin, as described in plat thereof and report of the city engineer to accompany this petition, as will give to this city the right to construct thereon storage reservoirs for water supply for this city and to hold and maintain the same forever.

Resolved, That the city clerk be required to mail to each of our senators and to our representative in congress, a copy of these resolutions and they are hereby respectfully requested to obtain for us if possible the grant herein requested during the present session of congress.

Alderman Skinner introduced the following resolution which was adopted:

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Colorado Springs, That the city clerk be and is hereby directed to notify the El Paso Electric company to remove, on or before the first of July next the five incandescent street lamps on Tejon street and substitute therefor five arc lamps of 2000 candle power each in accordance with their contract with the city.

The council then adjourned.

FOR SALE.

A very desirable opportunity is here given for a purchaser with ready money to procure a rare bargain, at low figures, of a choice piece of property with good small house and commodious and conveniently arranged outbuildings, as follows: Fifty acres of good tillable land about two and a quarter miles north of the Colorado Springs postoffice, divided about equally by Monument creek, all under good fence and irrigating ditch; also 16 head of fine bred horses, mostly finest quality trotting strain, of different ages. Including, also, a complete variety of choice and thrifty fruits. A complete outfit of farming implements, with wagons, harness and well broke work horses. These horses can be sold as a whole or separately. At the head of the herd is a fine bred registered trotting stallion, capable of trotting in thirty (30), without a record. Satisfactory reasons for selling. Address

Mr. J. D. Hollister has filed his notarial bond with County Clerk Eaton.

Concert this evening at the Congregational church by the Mozart Choral society.

Mrs. C. H. White has returned from her eastern visit and she and Mr. White are now occupying their residence on Pike's Peak avenue.

There will be a meeting of Phoenix Encampment No. 21, I. O. O. F., this evening for work in the first degree. Visiting patriarchs are cordially invited to attend.

There was a large audience at the geography social given under the auspices of the Young Helpers' society of the Christian church at the city hall last evening.

Mr. W. C. Edwards, manager of the Minnie Huff concert company, was in the city yesterday arranging for a concert to be given by that organization in the opera house on February 2d.

There will be a regular meeting of the B. F. Crowell Hose company this evening. It is very desirable that every member of the company should be present as there will be business of importance to come before the meeting.

Hon. C. P. Hoyt, ex-warden of the state penitentiary, was in the city yesterday and registered at The Antlers. Mr. Hoyt is interested together with several Colorado Springs gentlemen in some valuable mining enterprises in Gunnison county.

Hon. Norman H. Meldrum, lieutenant governor of Colorado, made a flying visit to the city yesterday. He came down from Denver on the Thunderbolt yesterday afternoon and returned on the Salt Lake express. His business was of an entirely private character.

Mr. Ben Stern, business manager of Hanlon Bros.' Fantasma, was a caller at the GAZETTE office yesterday. Mr. Stern is quite an experienced and successful theatrical manager. He visited the opera house yesterday morning and after having inspected the stage and ascertained its dimensions stated that the Hanlons would be able to present Fantasma with its startling changes in all its entirety.

Major Otis Remick, agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company in this city, has recently received a statement of the company's business for the years 1885 and 1886. The year 1886 shows an increase of $581,500 in the business of the company in this state over the year 1885. During the past year the agents of this company in Colorado wrote over $1,000,000 insurance and led all the other companies represented in the state.

The parlors of the Congregational church were filled with ladies and gentlemen yesterday afternoon, upon the occasion of Professor Stone's lecture on botany. The lecturer has a very lucid and interesting style, together with the freshness of matter and the enthusiasm which characterize the original investigator. It is understood that an evening class will be formed going over the same ground to accommodate school teachers and others who cannot attend the afternoon course. This new departure on the part of Colorado College in furnishing to the general public a course of lectures delivered down town so as to be of easy access is to be warmly commended. If the remaining lectures of the course are as interesting as the lecture of yesterday, they will win large audiences.

Auditor E. R. Murphy, of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company, has furnished us with the following statement of the estimated earnings of that corporation for the second week of January and for the year to date. A comparison is also made with the earnings for the corresponding period of last year:

	For the week		For the year
	1887.	1886.	1887.	1886
Freight	$ 88,030	$ 74,240	$ 170,127	$ 131,291
Passenger	19,953	16,694	50,031	24,556
Exp mails etc	6,419	7,232	16,850	13,271
Total	114,410	97,177	245,018	178,157

Increase for week.....10,273 or 19 83-100 per cent.
Increase for year.....66,861 or 37 93-100 per cent.
Length of line, 1317 miles.

Lovers of vocal music should not miss the concert to be given by the Mozart Choral society at the Congregational church this evening. The following programme of the concert is an ample testimonial to the merit and excellence of the performance:

We often wonder why our old patrons never fail to call upon us when in need of anything in the line of repairing parlor, dining room or bed room furniture. We think this is owing to the fact that our knowledge of the business was acquired in this country, and therefore we thoroughly understand the American art of house decoration. The value of my past five years' experience with my patrons is shown by their repeated visits to inspect my stock of furniture, mattresses, springs, elegantly upholstered patent rockers and easy chairs; window shades and curtain poles.

DENVER, Colo., January 3, 1887.
We have sold to the Roberts Hardware Company all our stock, fixtures, accounts, business and good will. They will collect all bills due us and assume all liabilities.
We bespeak for them a continuation of the patronage so liberally bestowed on us during the past eighteen years. Yours respectfully,
C. A. ROBERTS & CO.

Referring to the above, we would say that we shall continue the business at the old stand, 1519 Larimer street. We shall spare no effort to please our patrons, and to keep up the high standard of our predecessors. Our stock will, at all times, be kept as complete as possible, and our prices will always be as low as is consistent with a moderate profit. Yours respectfully,
THE ROBERTS HARDWARE CO.

PAINTS & WALL PAPER.

Our New Styles of WALL PAPER have been arriving for the last month, and we would say that our stock is the largest and best that can be seen in this city. We do not hesitate in saying that if any one is in need of Wall Paper and will give us a call but what we can please them in Styles and Prices, however fastidious they may be, and as we do not employ any but first-class tradesmen you can depend upon it that your work will be done so that you won't have to be doing it over every six months. You will then see that it don't pay you to employ those who resort to Painting and Paper Hanging when every other device has failed them for a living. Or should you listen to the recommends of those who talk them up, for they will only do so when there is money in it for themselves. Paints, Oil Lead, Brushes, Varnishes, Glass and Window Shades.

GEORGE CANT & CO.

We have also on sale for a few days some of those English Gems of Art, which will be sold very cheap.
